The Survey Instrument

The Check-Up Survey is a targeted employee survey that provides a quick snapshot of your employees' satisfaction level and attitude towards the organization.

This product is very cost effective and typically can be launched within 5 days of the engagement.

Typical reasons why companies conduct a Check-Up include assessing employee attitudes following a merger or acquisition, determining the organization's success in reducing turnover, or evaluating employee satisfaction following the completion of a total compensation realignment.

The Check-Up demonstrates to employees that their opinion and views are considered important. This will help motivate employees and improve productivity.

This survey is designed to examine a wide range of issues quickly and efficiently.
